Invasions by Barbarian tribes

The most straightforward theory for Western Rome's collapse pins the fall on a string of military losses sustained against outside forces. Rome had tangled with Germanic tribes for centuries, but by the 300s “barbarian” groups like the Goths had encroached beyond the Empire’s borders. The Romans weathered a Germanic uprising in the late fourth century, but in 410 the Visigoth King Alaric successfully sacked the city of Rome. The Empire spent the next several decades under constant threat before “the Eternal City” was raided again in 455, this time by the Vandals. Finally, in 476, the Germanic leader Odoacer staged a revolt and deposed the Emperor Romulus Augustulus. From then on, no Roman emperor would ever again rule from a post in Italy, leading many to cite 476 as the year the Western Empire suffered its deathblow.

1. According to the text:

- a cidade de Roma foi atacada por povos vindos da Grécia no século VII
- o motivo mais óbvio para a queda do império romano, foram as invasões bárbaras
- a queda definitiva do império aconteceu no século IV
- o império só foi invadido uma vez

2. O trecho: “Western Empire suffered its deathblow” está em qual tempo verbal?

- present perfect
- simple past
- past continuous

d) past perfect

Read the text for questions 3-5

I've lived here for almost six years. I think this is a nice place and people are friendly. I have nothing to complain about. I've made friends and I've seen good things around here.

Lately, people have talked more to each other and the city has received more and more tourists from other countries. Tourism is very important here. Many people come here to spend their vacations and take a break.

I really like it here and I'm glad nothing bad has happened for a long time.
